

- Prefer prototype 1 with the purple background, partially because I think the nav bar is easier to see and navigate. As cool as it is to have navigation in the leaves for the second prototype, the text is hard to see and doesn't quite yet fit the leaves nicely.
- I also love the vines hanging off the nav bar in the first prototype, it looks really cool
- Moreover, the purple color in the first works better than the egg white of the second prototype, I think.
- Something that the second prototype has over the first is the use of the side spaces. The second prototype uses it to fit navigation, and though I prefer the navigation in the first prototype, there's a lot of empty space on both sides for prototype 1.
- Fonts are great, no complaints here.
- I like the rounded corners of the mobile navigation in prototype 2 than the sharp corners in prototype 1
- I'm a little confused about the cropping of the image. Were those just the original dimensions or do you plan on being able to click on it to expand it?
